6.1 Telling Public Radio's Story

Jump to question: 6.1

The purpose of this section is to give you an opportunity to tell us and your community about the activities you have engaged in to address community needs by outlining key services provided, and the local value and impact of those services. Please report on activities that occurred in Fiscal Year 2023. Responses may be shared with Congress or the public. Grantees are required to post a copy of this report (Section 6 only) to their website no later than ten (10) days after the submission of the report to CPB. CPB recommends placing the report in an "About" or similar section on your website. This section had previously been optional. Response to this section of the SAS is now mandatory.

Joint licensee Grantees that have filed a 2023 Local Content and Services Report as part of meeting the requirement for TV CSG funding may state they have done so in the corresponding questions below, so long as all of the questions below were addressed as they relate to radio operations in such report. You must include the date the report was submitted to CPB along with the TV Grantee ID under which it was submitted.

Jump to question: 6.1

1. Describe your overall goals and approach to address identified community issues, needs, and interests through your station's vital local services, such as multiplatform long and short-form content, digital and in-person engagement, education services, community information, partnership support, and other activities, and audiences you reached or new audiences you engaged.

The station's goal is to provide programming of interest to traditionally underserved segments of our community, in particular, African Americans. Every hour of each broadcast day, the station airs PSAs ta address the needs and interests of African Americans and the community at large. The station's urban contemporary radio format features music not heard on other local radio stations (i.e, classic R&B, contemporary R&B, rap, hip-hop, gospel, jazz and blues.

6.1 Telling Public Radio's Story

Jump to question: 6.1

2. Describe key initiatives and the variety of partners with whom you collaborated, including other public media outlets, community nonprofits, government agencies, educational institutions, the business community, teachers and parents, etc. This will illustrate the many ways you're connected across the community and engaged with other important organizations in the area.

The station has formed several partnerships with local health and social service organizations, to produce and air messaging in support of their programs and services. By disseminating messaging on behalf of health and social services, the station gives these organizations a means by which to reach those in need of their services, and helps to ensure that their services are distributed equitably.

6.1 Telling Public Radio's Story

Jump to question: 6.1

3. What impact did your key initiatives and partnerships have in your community? Describe any known measurable impact, such as increased awareness, learning or understanding about particular issues. Describe indicators of success, such as connecting people to needed resources or strengthening conversational ties across diverse neighborhoods. Did a partner see an increase in requests for related resources? Please include direct feedback from a partner(s) or from a person(s) served.

The station's community partners report an increased demand for their programs and services.

6.1 Telling Public Radio's Story

Jump to question: 6.1 ▼

4. Please describe any efforts (e.g. programming, production, engagement activities) you have made to investigate and/or meet the needs of minority and other diverse audiences (including, but not limited to, new immigrants, people for whom English is a second language and illiterate adults) during Fiscal Year 2023, and any plans you have made to meet the needs of these audiences during Fiscal Year 2024. If you regularly broadcast in a language other than English, please note the language broadcast.

The public service announcements the station has produced and aired in support of health and social services, are intended to reach minorities and marginalized segments of our community. The station aspires to maintain its keen sense of social consciousness, to better address the needs and interests of the community it serves.

6.1 Telling Public Radio's Story

Jump to question: 6.1 ▼

5. Please assess the impact that your CPB funding had on your ability to serve your community. What were you able to do with your grant that you wouldn't be able to do if you didn't receive it?

CPS funding strengthens, expands, and enhances our broadcast capabilities, enabling us to keep pace with advancements in radio broadcasting and digital technology.

7.1 Journalists

Jump to question: 7.1 ▼

This section builds on the Census of Journalists conducted by CPB in the summer of 2010. These positions are the primary professional full-time, part-time or contract contributors to local journalism at your organization. The individuals in these positions will have had training in the standards and practices of fact-based news origination, verification, production and presentation. These are generally accepted titles for these positions but may not match position descriptions at your organization exactly. Please do your best to account for each professional journalist in your organization. Please do not count student or volunteer journalists.

9.4 Please describe your internal policy and threshold for pass-through of EAS messages, including how your system checks for CAP-compliant alerts.

Jump to question: 9.4

The station does not issue, control or alter CAP-compliant alerts in any way. We simply pass through messages that federal, state, or local authorities choose to send to the public. Our Emergency Alert System/Common Alerting Protocol (EAS/CAP) encoder/decoder employs Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) digital certificates to authenticate messaging from the Integrated Public Alert and Warning System (IPAWS).

9.5 Please describe the relationship between your station and local emergency management agency. Jump to question: 9.5

The station stays up to date with the functions of local emergency management agencies, with the use of the agencies' public safety app, which disseminates mass notifications and emergency messaging through push notifications. The app also provides instant access to local safety resources.
